MEMORANDUM

To: Staff
From: Ryan Murphy
Date: February 26, 2025
Subject: Raffle Calendar Fundraiser

The McKinney Police Department has given us the approval to run our calendar raffle fundraiser. Now, it is time for the staff of Next Level Sports to really get the ball rolling!

Each staff member has been given a portion of our list of coaches, advisors, and trainers to contact about the fundraiser. Let everyone on your list know that each player can sell as many calendars as they possibly can, but will be given 10 to start. Remind them that the total amount raised from the calendar raffle will be divided equally between each activity and help raise funds for players to participate in statewide tournaments. Be sure to keep track of the coaches, advisors, and trainers you spoke with—these logs will be collected at the end of each shift.

Please use the following seven basic points as a guide when informing the coaches, advisors, and trainers of the calendar raffle basics and rules:

| BASIC POINTS TO COVER                                                                   |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| The fundraiser will run throughout the month of September                               |
| The calendars will have daily prize drawings                                            |
| The prizes will be from 30 local businesses                                             |
| Each calendar will be sold for $10                                                     |
| Each player can sell as many calendars they would like                                  |
| Any unsold calendars should be returned to Next level Sports by October 1 st |
| Additional calendars can be picked up at Next Level Sports' front desk                  |

I hope you find the above information helpful. Please reach out to me if you think of any questions or concerns that you or someone else may have about the raffle. From the feedback I have received already, I know this fundraiser will be very well-received.

Subject: Common Issues – First Time Boarder

You have all been doing an amazing job at the Ranch with our overnight and long-term boarders. I wanted to provide you with a list of common issues that our first-time boarders, specifically, puppies, might have. Knowing these common issues will help you more confidentially care for the puppies and give peace of mind to their owners.

You will find a list of problems and solutions that are common with puppies who board overnight or long-term below. The first table contains both owner and puppy issues. The last page of this memo contains separate tables for owner issues and puppy issues, sorted for your reference. Feel free to speak to me if you have any additional techniques or suggestions that you would like me to add to the list. Additionally, if you believe I have left out anything, please do not hesitate to meet with me to discuss adding it to the list.

| Problem                                                                 | Solution                                                                                              |

What does grooming cost?

Grooming charges vary from breed to breed and service to service. Please speak to a staff member to get an estimate for the grooming services that you would like for your dog. All grooming services are performed by certified pet stylists with years of training and expertise. First-time clients receive a free consultation with a stylist to discuss products, cuts, and breed-specific styling. If you are unhappy with your pet's service, we will be happy to try to rectify the problem. Feel free to talk to a stylist with any concerns you might have.

Is there a kennel-free option?

Overnight boarders are welcome to choose to stay in the Big House for cage-free boarding.

What vaccinations do you require?

All pets must have current Rabies vaccine, Distemper/Parvo vaccine, and Bordetella (the vaccine for canine cough). We also request that all dogs be on a flea preventative.
